The two statistical scientific and professional non-governmental organizations in Turkey (The Turkish Statistical Association and The Society of Turkish Statisticians) are organizing their joint bi-annual Statistical Congress again this year. The date of the Fifth Statistical Congress (ISTKON5) is May, 20-24, 2007. The event will take place in Antalya, Turkey, one the most beautiful cities of the Mediterranean region.

These Statistical Congresses are the major meetings for the statistical academic and professional circles of Turkey, and a large number of academic and professional people from the country is expected to participate in ISTKON5.

At the occasion of ISTKON5, the two non-governmental organizations, with the support of Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, plan to organize simultaneously an international actuarial meeting on Risk Measures and Solvency (RMS). The RMS Meeting will be embedded in ISTKON5, and shares the same facilities.
